References to nationhood, nationality, citizenship, government, Ambassador, ministry, territory, national credentials, diplomatic terminology, or similar concepts describe the Enclave’s internal cultural and institutional framework unless external recognition is expressly documented. Enclave credentials do not replace government-issued passports, driver licenses, immigration documents, professional licenses, or state identification.

ARTICLE IX — Nonviolence, Preparedness, and Institutional Conduct

The Enclave rejects unlawful violence and intimidation. Its Shield symbolizes a warrior spirit expressed through discipline, preparedness, lawful self-defense, intellectual resistance to subjugation, civic knowledge, and the lawful exercise of rights. No internal doctrine authorizes conduct prohibited by applicable law.
